What Other Energy Efficiency Experts Are Saying About The Size of the U.S. Energy Efficiency Market

“ACEEE's impressive survey demonstrates the opportunity for investors to cut greenhouse-gas emissions profitably and to increase the productivity of energy development and consumption.”

Richard Munson
Senior Vice-President
Recycled Energy Development
Westmont, IL

“You rarely see a ribbon-cutting ceremony for an energy efficiency project or a press release about new jobs in efficiency. Because the industry is composed of numerous small and diverse products and activities, it’s largely invisible to the public and policymakers. By tallying the investment capital going into this sector and the jobs being created, this pioneering report exposes the significant role energy efficiency plays as an engine of economic growth.”
